GET INTO YOUR GROOVE

Quality, durability and flexibility. These three ingredients combine in an elegant new range of decorative wall and ceiling linings that are a breeze to install.

This all-purpose interior panel made with Ultra Moisture Resistant MDF is an innovative and versatile decorative solution. Formaldehyde free and primed for painting, Designer Groove is suitable for a wide range of wet & dry interior applications.

Whether it's a bedroom or boardroom, this beautiful collection will inject a timeless flair into any interior. Coming in three distinct profiles, Designer Groove is available in VJ100 (classic v-joint), VJ150 (wide groove v-joint) and Regency150 (luxurious regent profile).

Plyco's Designer Groove Panelling is available in three groove profiles: VJ100, VJ150 and Regency150. Each profile offers a variety of sizes and groove options to provide plenty of choice! All options come in a uniform 9.5mm thick sheet and are available to ship Australia wide.

Product Benefits

Custom Sizes

In addition to all standard product sizing, Plyco offers a Cut To Size service. From standard cuts to CNC programs, you'll find any custom sheet size tailored for the purpose of your project.

Compatible Profiles

All three Designer Groove profiles are designed to work with each other. Combined in application, this range offers superior freedom in design.

Visual Variety

With pronounced variation in grooves, each of the products in this range offer something unique different. If you feel stuck for choices, contact our team!

One Of A Kind

Designer Groove panels are made with MDI polyurethane resin – a revolutionary bond that results in Ultra Moisture Resistant MDF. This is the only Australian made MDI panel of its kind!
