

Colour Collection 2023

Laminex®

Evolution of Living Pigments

Our Living Pigments range features our most popular coloured décors – outside of our whites and neutrals. This year's update adds to the Living Pigments collection with some more highly saturated and bolder décors.

Our new décors have a touch of black and reduced colour strength to make them slightly less bold and therefore more usable and can be easily worked back with décors in the Laminex Colour Collection and other materials in projects.

In keeping with our design ethos, all of the décors we add to the Laminex Colour Collection can be found in the natural environment around us.

Woodgrains

In keeping with our design ethos, all of the décors we add to the Laminex Colour Collection can be found in the natural environment around us.

All our new Woodgrain décors are available in High Pressure Laminate and Low Pressure Melamine in both Natural and Chalk finishes.

Calm Oak

Calm Oak is a colour carrier partner to Classic Oak (no planking, very similar colouration). One of the print layers uses pearlescent ink to give a lively feel to the design.

Weathered Ply

Weathered Ply is a hybrid design sitting between a rotary ply and papyrus. The very fine structural details provide visual interest and suggest a slightly distressed or rusticated surface.

Chestnut Woodland

Chestnut Woodland is a Beech structure – but not a traditional furniture Beech at all. Long, linear and elegant in a warm chestnut brown, the intricate grain detailing is suggestive of the highest quality veneers used for wood inlays in fine furniture.

Chestnut Woodland

Greyed Woodland

Greyed Woodland is a Beech structure – but not a traditional furniture Beech at all. Long, linear and elegant in a soft grey, the intricate grain detailing is suggestive of the highest quality veneers used for wood inlays in fine furniture.
